

External sites relating to Gifted and Talented children

Aim Higher

Children of High Intelligence

Converse – the literature website

Essex Grid for Learning

DfES Gifted and Talented

Warwick University

National Association for Able Children in Education

National Curriculum Online

National Grid for Learning

The Society for Advancing Philosophical and Reflection in Education

Xcalibre – portal for gifted and talented children

Teachernet

www.the-paper.org

The Paper is written for and by 10 -18 year olds in Cambridgeshire. Many of the county's schools send regular contributions. If your child's school is not registered to submit articles and your child is interested in taking part there is guidance on how to do this on the web page. The Paper provides an excellent opportunity for young people to research into a range of issues, as well as formulate and share informed opinions about matters that concern or interest them.