community transport can act as a bridge between social isolation and accessing public services and facilities

What is Community Transport?

Community Transport is a term used to describe a service, or network of services, that can provide essential journeys for those who have difficulty accessing conventional public transport. This may be due to mobility issues or through a lack, or limited availability, of transport operating in certain areas, i.e. rural localities. Whatever the reason, community transport can act as a bridge between social isolation and accessing public services and facilities, such as healthcare. Community Transport mainly involves a workforce of dedicated volunteers, giving up their time to help others to provide transport services. Each Community Transport scheme aims to operate in a way best suited to their locality and the communities they serve.

Most of these schemes are operated using the kind services of volunteers. Cambridgeshire County Council is extremely grateful to all those who have made this happen.

We are keen to develop further community transport schemes throughout the County, particularly schemes that can complement existing modes of transport. We provide assistance in setting up schemes and aim to support all schemes thereafter. For information and advice on setting up a scheme, please telephone or contact us on 01223 717755.

Who can use Community Transport?

Community Transport schemes can be used by those who meet the following criteria:

- Those who do not have access to public transport and do not have access to their own means of transport, i.e. car (this could include no access to the family car in the daytime)
- Those who find it difficult to use, or unable to use, conventional means of transport, i.e. because of mobility difficulties

If you are unsure whether you meet the criteria, please contact the individual schemes in your area, or have a chat with the Community Transport Officer at Cambridgeshire County Council on 01223 717755.

How to use this Guide

This guide is designed to give information on Community Transport schemes operating within your area.

It is aimed mainly for use by two groups; those who may look to use Community Transport because they may meet the eligibility criteria outlined above (or know of someone who may benefit from using Community Transport), and those involved in the delivery of services for older people, disability-related or information/advisory services.

One of the key objectives of Cambridgeshire County Council is to increase access to services, regardless of whether they are provided publicly or privately, for the benefit of all. We are keen to provide choice to the public, and we greatly encourage the existence of all types of transport that can give choice to anyone wishing to travel for whatever purpose.

If you would like more copies of this publication, please contact the Community Transport Officer on 01223 717755 or e-mail: community.transport@cambridgeshire.gov.uk

We are very keen to keep the information known to us as accurate as possible. If you find any errors, omissions or know of any new services, please let us know.

Each Community Transport scheme aims to operate in a way best suited to their locality and the communities they serve.

There are three main kinds of Community Transport scheme operating in Cambridgeshire; Dial-a-Ride Services, Voluntary Car Schemes, Community Bus Schemes.

Choices of Transport and How to Access Them

Below is a brief outline of the types of community transport schemes operating in Cambridgeshire.

Details of schemes operating in your area and how to use them are enclosed. The order in which they are listed for each area follows the same order in which the different types of schemes are described here in this Section.

What types of scheme are there?

There are three main kinds of Community Transport scheme operating in Cambridgeshire:

- Dial-a-Ride Services
- Voluntary Car Schemes
- Community Bus Schemes

Dial-a-Ride Services

Dial-a-Ride services provide 'door-to-door' transport to members of the Dial-a-Ride scheme operating in that area. The aim is to provide a reliable personal service to their members, with well-trained drivers giving 'door-to-door' support at both the beginning and the end of your journey. They use minibuses equipped with wheelchair tail-lifts and have low steps, making getting on and off their minibus much easier.

Typical journey purposes: Dial-a-Ride is best suited to local journeys such as shopping, hairdressers appointments, seeing friends, visiting clubs, or attending doctors or chiropodists appointments. Many also offer weekly services from rural areas to a nearby major supermarket.

Journeys need to be booked in advance by telephone, with at least 48 hours notice, but would appreciate if journeys were booked as early as possible.

They charge a fare for each journey, and may charge a lower fare to any accompanying person, i.e. a carer.

Membership is open to those who meet the criteria set by the group, usually those who have difficulty getting to or getting on conventional means of transport. Dial-a-Ride services cannot carry members of the general public.

Information on how to become a member is available by contacting the Dial-a-Ride service operating in your area.

Voluntary Car Schemes

These schemes offer organised lifts to those needing to make essential journeys where no suitable public transport services exist, and to individuals with mobility difficulties.

Typical journeys: shopping, appointments, visiting relatives in hospital, visiting friends at their home, and connecting with a train. Voluntary car schemes may offer transport for attending medical appointments – this could mean trips to local GP surgeries, chemists, chiropodists and dentists. Many schemes also offer transport to individuals with hospital outpatient clinic appointments, in cases where the individual is not entitled to hospital transport.

Journeys are usually arranged by telephone, by contacting the Scheme closest to you. This Guide includes the details of each scheme operating in the area you live in. The organisers usually need at least 48 hours to find a driver and vehicle, and to confirm the booking, but would appreciate if journeys were booked as early as possible.

Passengers are usually charged a fare set by the scheme. The organiser will explain how much a journey may cost when booking a journey.

Please read carefully the purpose of each scheme before you contact them to organise transport, as schemes differ on the types of journey they can undertake. For example, one scheme may only provide transport to medical services, whereas another scheme may only give lifts to neighbouring villages for ‘social purposes’, i.e. the passenger visiting a relative or friend.

Community Buses: the Rural Hoppa and Connexions Services

These services are registered local bus services run by local organisations or local operators.

They provide services where commercial operators cannot financially afford to, but where people would otherwise have no service.

Rural Hoppa services

Three Rural Hoppa services operate between Ramsey and Huntingdon and Ramsey area, and operate one day per week using accessible vehicles.

For more information on these services, or a copy of a timetable, please contact: Ramsey & District Community Bus Association: 01487 815543

Connexions services

The purpose of the Connexions services is to take passengers in villages to larger settlements that is served by public transport regularly, enabling passengers to change and access more frequent public transport services.

Information on these services and tickets can be obtained from local amenities in some of the parishes served by these services, such as the Post Office, Parish Councils, and some public houses or village shops.

For further information on these services, contact 01223 717755.

Hiring Community Transport Vehicles

Several of the Community Transport Operators mentioned throughout this guide offer a Minibus Hire service. Community groups and clubs, plus not-for-profit organisations, can hire these vehicles with a driver supplied, and in some cases offer self-drive. Please see the separate entries listed under “Minibus Hire” by district for further details.

The Operators include:

As these vehicles are wheelchair accessible, this form of hire ideal for groups or families who have a wheelchair-bound member in their party.

General Information on Transport and Options

Although this guide is about Community Transport, below are some details on conventional means of transport, particular public transport, which Community Transport aims to complement.

Public transport aims to be responsive to the needs of the people it is designed to serve, as we all become more aware of the importance that transport plays in our lifestyles. This is particularly important as Cambridgeshire County Council believes in developing and encouraging the use of viable alternatives to the car. We are committed to shaping transport services to encourage their greater use, to see where problems can occur and how to increase the potential of our good transport links and services.

As public transport becomes more accessible to all people, including to people with a range of disabilities, we encourage the greater use of interchanges between modes of transport. This means increasing the choice and ability to use more than one form of transport, involving convenient and safe changeover places. You may want

- a lift in someone's car to a nearby Park and Ride site and then catch a bus
- or drive yourself to a nearby Park and Ride site and then catch a bus
- or take a Community Bus to drop you off on a local bus route or at a train station
- or to cycle to your nearest train station, and leave your bike safely at the station

...or use any combination of means of transport that does not rely on the car as the sole mode of transport. Although it may mean leaving the house a little earlier, you'll find it worth it and healthier for you!

Cambridgeshire County Council and Transport

Cambridgeshire County Council provides a service for public and community transport users in many different ways:

- liaison with bus operators, rail operators and community transport operators
- support and assistance to voluntary transport organisations and groups
- liaison with District, Parish and neighbouring Councils regarding transport
- investment in projects that can benefit public transport users
- subsidise a number of local bus services or elements of routes, including contracted services operated by commercial bus operators on less-profitable routes
- contributes towards the concessionary travel pass scheme
- investigate issues such as the availability of transport in rural areas and work in partnership with groups such as Cambridgeshire ACRE and Local Strategic Partnership
- contract services operated by commercial bus operators during term-time for school and college purposes

Commercial bus operators in Cambridgeshire, and companies that operate services into Cambridgeshire, provide the majority of bus services. The County Council has no control over the routes, times or fares of bus services operated commercially, but we have regular contact with commercial service operators as part of our policy of forging partnerships. Any comments we receive, good or bad, are passed onto them frequently.

Cambridgeshire County Council is also working with bus operators to identify and develop key corridors throughout Cambridgeshire, and to enhance them to suit the needs of existing passengers and attract new passengers. This can involve looking at increasing the frequency of services where required, plus simplifying fare structures, as well as encouraging use of high-quality vehicles that are accessible to all.

Park and Ride in Cambridge

Park and Ride services into Cambridge City Centre operate up to every 10 minutes, between Monday-Saturday, from 5 sites on each of the main roads into Cambridge, plus some services on Sundays.

Simply park your car for free at any of the sites and pay the bus fare on-board the bus. Park and Ride is proven to be a convenient and reliable method of transport for shoppers, visitors to the City Centre, and those who work in Cambridge.

All Park and Ride services have stops in the City Centre and at the Grafton Centre. In addition, the Cowley Road – Babraham Road Park and Ride bus serves Addenbrookes Hospital, and can be used as a means of reducing the need to park on-site, particularly as there is very limited parking at the hospital. This service also regularly uses accessible buses.

Accessible Local Bus Services

The County Council has a policy on encouraging the use of buses that aim to be accessible to all, including people with mobility difficulties, or parents with buggies / pushchairs, and an increasing number of operators are using these newer types of vehicles.

There are two main types of buses used by local bus service operators;

Low floor vehicles

Many local bus services throughout Cambridgeshire now frequently use low floor buses. These vehicles only have one step onto them and the front end of the vehicle can be lowered to reduce the height of the step from the pavement. As well as designated seating for passengers with disabilities at the front of the vehicle, a space may be provided for a wheelchair user or a pushchair. These buses may also have space designated to store bags or folded pushchairs.

Non-low floor buses

These buses are not wheelchair accessible, but they incorporate design features to help individuals with ‘ambulant disabilities’.

This may include lower entrance steps with clear edging, better lighting in doorways, extra handrails in bright colours for increased visibility, designated seating for passengers with disabilities at the front of the vehicle, and larger, clearer destination boards. They usually have space designated to store bags or folded pushchairs.

If you have specific mobility requirements, we advise you to speak to your local bus operator(s) to enquire whether accessible buses, such as low floor vehicles, are used on your chosen route(s) before making your journey.

Local Bus Service Operator Contact Details

Please follow the link below on the Cambridgeshire County Council website for up-to-date information on bus operator contact details:

hospital-based transport can be arranged in some cases for those unable to use public transport

In terms of transport for health purposes, Cambridgeshire County Council works in partnership with healthcare providers to ensure that everyone can access healthcare facilities. These may range from appointments at GP surgeries, dentists or chiropodists, or hospital out-patients clinics.

For non-emergency trips to hospital or clinics, it is usually the responsibility of patients to arrange their own transport. This is the case for appointments to dentists or chiropodists.

However, hospital-based transport can be arranged in some cases for those unable to use public transport, either because of mobility difficulties or the nature of the treatment received, or you live in an area with no public transport. Telephone your Doctor about whether you meet the criteria for hospital transport for your first appointment.

If hospital transport cannot be arranged, then find the nearest scheme in your area in this Guide and contact them in advance of your appointment to discuss whether they can assist you. Different schemes make journeys for certain purposes, although most voluntary car schemes may be able to take you plus a companion to your hospital appointment and take you home afterwards. Please be aware that you will have to pay for your journey, the amount will depend on the total distance travelled each way at the mileage rate set by the scheme.

Dial-a-Ride services cannot usually provide transport for hospital appointments, as the demand is such that drivers and vehicles cannot wait for patients to complete their appointments.

Help with Travel Expenses

Patients using public or private transport to receive NHS treatment may obtain assistance with their travelling expenses if they are in receipt of

- family credit
- income-based Job Seeker's Allowance
- Income Support
- or are on a low income

Leaflet H11 "NHS Hospital Travel Costs" outlines those who are eligible and how to receive payment. This leaflet is produced by the Department of Health and is available from Social Security Offices, family doctors and NHS Hospitals.

You may also get help with the cost of visiting someone in hospital if you are in receipt of Income Support or income-based Job Seeker's Allowance and you have less than £500 in savings (£1,000 if you are 60 or over). Apply to your nearest office of the Department of Work and Pensions, asking for Form SF 300.

You will need to provide documentary proof that you qualify under the criteria above, and provide a ticket(s) or a receipt showing the cost of your journey.

This Guide has been produced to inform people about Community Transport and associated forms of transport in their area.

This section lists the contact details of some statutory bodies and groups, including voluntary groups, that provide community-based services. Most of these schemes are operated using the kind services of volunteers. Cambridgeshire County Council is extremely grateful to all those who have made this happen.
