I'm a Reablement Worker

Looking for a job where you can help people to enjoy life again, and a career with the potential of quick progression? Join Emiline, Laura and Elvira and become a Reablement Worker for Cambridgeshire County Council.

Reablement Workers help people to leave hospital as soon as is practicably possible and to get back to living independent lives in their own homes.

I'm a Getting Old Romantics Dancing Again Worker

After taking a position as a Support Worker in 2015, Laura Clarke is now a Care Coordinator for the Reablement team. Having started at the bottom of the ladder, within six months she was promoted to Lead Reablement Worker, creating care plans for service users and carrying out regular reviews.

She was then promoted again, becoming one of the pioneers of the Enhanced Response Team, a role that gave her vital managerial experience and that qualified her for her current position of Care Coordinator.

Emiline Garcia, Lead Reablement Worker, has worked for the Reablement team for almost three years. As well as the satisfaction she gets from helping service users every day, she feels thankful to have had the opportunity to progress and develop her career through training and managerial support. And unlike her previous agency roles, Emiline finds she now has time for her family and herself.

Assistant Care Coordinator Elvira Binan is in her third year with the Reablement team. She feels supported by her managers and her colleagues, some of whom have been with the Reablement team for almost half of their lives. Elvira believes this long service represents how good her employer is, and the job itself.

Be a 'Get Bert Dancing Again' Worker

Be a 'Reunite Doris with Morris' Worker

- Would you like to have a job where you help people to enjoy life again?
- Do you have great communication skills?
- Are you a team player with good decision-making skills, with a can-do attitude and a flexible approach?
- Do you have a full driving licence, and access to a car?

If so we would love to talk to you about our reablement support worker roles. Having the right values and behaviours is more important than a social work qualification. We can support you to gain a qualification while doing the job.

How does it work?

Our reablement support workers motivate and inspire people to re-learn tasks and activities that are key to their quality of life.

Reablement support workers go out into the community. They usually see several service users each day. They help people to stay on track to stay independent.

Support usually lasts less than six weeks and helps people carry out tasks they identify as important. This may be cooking, getting down the steps into the garden, or dressing themselves. Each programme is tailored to the individual.

Unlike care - which treats individuals as passive recipients - reablement works in partnership with the individual.

If the service user needs further support afterwards, support outside of the reablement service will support their ongoing care needs.

What can we offer you?

We will support you to gain a Level 2 or 3 Diploma in Health and Social Care, but you can do these once you're in the job if you don't already have it.

We can also offer:

- A pay increase is pending for this role. The FTE equivalent salary for this position will increase to £18,426 - £18,795 (plus enhancements) and this pay increase will be backdated to 1 April 2019.
- enhanced pay rates for evenings, weekends and bank holidays - up to double time
- flexible working with variable hours to suit your lifestyle, in your local area
- generous mileage allowance of 45p a mile
- up to 30 days annual leave entitlement, plus bank holidays (pro rata), subject to length of service
- mobile phone
- uniform
- membership of the Local Government Pension scheme
- ongoing continued professional development
- lease car scheme (subject to terms and conditions)
